Description and programme

Rimini – cycling between the sea, nature and Italian ease. Pleasant cycle routes along the coast, picturesque countryside, historic small towns and the authentic atmosphere of the Italian interior.

Enjoy an active holiday on two wheels, the scent of the sea, excellent Italian food and evening walks along the promenade.

Rimini lies on the Adriatic coast in the Emilia-Romagna region in the north of Italy. It is known not only as a popular resort with long beaches, but also for its rich history (Roman monuments, the Bridge of Tiberius, the Arch of Augustus, the Malatesta family and more).

The town is a flat seaside town with good links to the hilly interior, which makes it an ideal base for a variety of cycling activities. It suits leisure and fitter cyclists alike. The area also offers wonderful trips along the coast. Hotel Viking has excellent reviews from our clients: a great location, food and facilities.

From our base we will make star-shaped rides. The routes run almost entirely on asphalt cycle paths. The programme is designed as a cycling tour. On site, by agreement, there is an optional coach trip to San Marino and other places. If the group wants to visit places without cycling, we collect the checkpoint fees (charges for the coach to enter a town or zone) on site, as agreed by the group.

Optional trip: Mirabilandia, the largest amusement park in Italy. Admission for an adult 30 €.

Itinerary / cycle routes:

Route 1: Getting to know Rimini (coastal route). Rimini → Riccione → Misano → Cattolica → back. Length: 40–45 km. Type: flat, cycle paths, promenade. Highlights: the coast, piers, restaurants, a chance to swim in the sea.

Route 2: The Marecchia river valley. Rimini → Verucchio → Santarcangelo di Romagna → Rimini. Length: about 55–60 km. Type: flat with gentle climbs, some sections on gravel. Highlights: Verucchio castle, medieval lanes, views. Tip: wine and olive oil tasting in Verucchio.

Route 3: Historic towns in the interior. Rimini → Coriano → San Clemente → Rimini. Length: about 60–65 km. Type: rolling terrain, asphalt. Highlights: vineyards, views of the Apennines and the sea, small villages. Tip: a wine break in Coriano or nearby.

Route 4: The queen stage: Rimini → Gradara (castle). Rimini → Cattolica → Gradara (castle) → back. Length: about 70 km. Type: asphalt, gentle hills. Highlights: Gradara castle, one of the most beautiful in Italy.

Route 5: A relaxed coastal stage. Rimini → Bellaria → Cesenatico → back. Length: about 50 km. Type: flat, coastal cycle paths. Highlights: Cesenatico, the beautiful canal by Leonardo da Vinci, the harbour.

Route 6: Into the hills: Colle di Covignano and Santarcangelo. Rimini → Colle di Covignano → Santarcangelo → Rimini. Length: about 45–55 km. Type: shorter but hilly. Panoramic views from the hill above Rimini, relaxing in Santarcangelo.

Route 7: Via Romagna (a taster) and vineyards. Rimini → Montescudo → Croce → Rimini. Length: about 60 km. Type: rolling to hilly terrain, the route partly follows the Via Romagna. Vineyards, nature, quiet roads.
